Dr. Ganga Sahai Pandey was one of the ever shining star of Ayurved. He had completed his A.M.S. Degree from Banaras Hindu University in 1945 and honored teaching post in Kayachikitsa Department in the same University. His prestige and glory as a renowned physician spread beyond the domains of Purvanchal up to the national and international level. He was the member of academic council of B.H.U. and also served the humanity and Ayurveda as a president of Akhil Bhartiya Vaidya Parishad. He was honoured by "Sahitya Academy Award" and "Mangala Prasad Paritoshik Award" for his incredible contribution in the field of Ayurvedic Literature. His immense depth of knowledge about the subject can be visualized in his important scriptures on Kayachikitsa. He also edited fundamental treatises of Ayurveda like Charaka Samhita, Gadanigraha, Bhavaprakasha Nighantu and Ayurveda Pradeep.

In auspicious memory of such a laureate person, Vishwa Ayurved Parishad is organizing an essay competition every year among undergraduate students of Ayurvedic colleges of India.

Dear Students,

Ayurveda, literally meaning "science of life" is thought to be one of the oldest medical system among known ones. Maintaining the health of a healthy individual and curing the diseases of sick person are the main aims of Ayurveda. Ayurvedic medicine has been used by millions of people since thousands of years due to their curative potential. Today, scientists of western countries and even persons from India are continuously trying to defame this ancient science by terming it harmful and toxic. However, like any other medical system, Ayurvedic therapies have contraindications and the potential for adverse effects or side effects. This is of particular concern when therapies are used incorrectly or abused or administered improperly or improper processed or prescribed by unqualified practitioners.

For the true exploration and validation of Ayurveda, it is essential that the scientific inputs be conformed to its basic principles and philosophy. One among such basics of Ayurveda is the theory of Panchamahabhuta. The Panchamahabhutas are the juncture of subtle to the more gross manifestation of the universe. The basic proposition of Ayurveda is that the entire universe is part of one singular absolute. Everything that exists in the vast external universe (macrocosm) also appears in the internal cosmos of the human body (microcosm). The human body consisting of millions of cells, which when healthy, are in harmony, self-perpetuating and self-correcting just as the universe is. In other words, all human beings are a living microcosm of the universe and the universe is a living macrocosm of the human beings, as rightly said – "Yat Pinde, Tat Bramhande". Hence a comprehensive application of this knowledge of the Panchamahabhuta in the universe may be applied to maintain the human body and correct the ailments related to it.
